LIBYAN ROUT THREATENS CHURCHILL WITH REVOLT OF ANGERED COMMONS

U. S. Air Force Moves To Halt Nazis in Libya

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS. Fresh and continuing reinforcements were reaching the British eighth army on the frontier of Egypt last night and four-motored "Liberators" of the United States Army Air Force already had entered the battle of the desert.

Thus the United Nations were demonstrating without delay their determination to hold the middle east, and the position of this vast and vital battlefront looked not quite so dark as it did when To-bruk fell and the German-Italian African corps rolled on west to occupy all of coastal Libya.

People started massing at this intersection an hour before the show began, and police estimated that between 25,000 and 35,000 packed the streets for two blocks in every direction. They were

It was one of the largest crowds ever to gather in the heart of the city and police said it rivaled or surpassed the throngs at the world premiere of "Gone With the Wind."

Tomo-chi-chi met King George in Kensington Palace

TOMO-CHI-CHI, chief of the Yamacraws, six feet tall, vigorous and erect even at ninety, became the friend of Oglethorpe in 1733. He influenced the Lower Creek tribes to sign a treaty with the whites. When Oglethorpe returned to England, he took Tomo-chi-chi and some of his tribesmen.

King George II invited them to the royal palace, and for the occasion they spent many hours dressing themselves, donning brilliant, formal, tribal regalia, and decorating their long black hair with great eagle feathers. Their faces were painted red, blue and yellow and they wore rings in their ears and, as trophies of the hunt, necklaces of wild animal teeth and claws.

Londoners thronged the streets to see the royal coaches bear these strange passengers to the court. King George and Queen Caroline received Tomopresented a bunch of eagle feathers, saying, "We have brought them to you, O great king, as a sign of everlasting peace between your people and mine." During the Yamacraws' four months' stay in England, Tomo-chi-chi succeeded in having several important measures enacted for the benefit of the Creeks in Georgia. # Every Conceivable Waste Practiced, War Probers Say

WASHINGTON, June 23.—(AP)—Hitting at "reckless spending," mounting bureaucracy and cost-plus contracts, the House Military Committee today issued a strongly worded report asserting that "nearly every conceivable type of extravagant waste" had been reflected in its investigation of War Department business dealings.

There has been evidence of videspread and inexcusable waste to the outbreak of war" in Euwidespread and inexcusable waste of public funds amounting to millions of dollars." declared the report prepared by Chairman May, Democrat, Kentucky, who said the Year-old inquiry would continue. The committee split sharply on the findings, with three Democrats reported to have joined nine Republicant to the outbreak of war" in Europe in 1939. #### Good Soldiers

It seems to this newspaper that the corner filling station man deserves some special notice.

It is entirely possible we never paid much attention to him when we drove in, ordered five or ten gallons of gas, and resumed our conversation with others in our car. We never noted him or his hands as he or one of his helpers wiped off the windshield, took a swipe or so at a mud spot, and asked about the water and the tires.

The war has hit him hard. He hasn't as much gas to sell and he can't sell tires. He can't keep open as many hours as before.

But, when it came time to start a campaign to collect scrap rubber, he was nominated. Old rubber toys, old tires, rubber hoses, rubber shoes and door mats are coming into the corner gas stations. The gas station man is doing his part.

We see that the corner gas station man is still on the job; still wiping off windshields, still changing tires, still selling some gas. He is on the job, too, with the latest advice about changing tires to equalize wear and weight. He knows about how much inflation to give each tire so it will wear best.

He is being a good citizen and a good soldier. What is more, he is doing it cheerfully and with a smile which could be a lesson to a lot of us.

Take another look about the house. Take all your scrap rubber to the filling stations. Your country needs it.

The Jap Navy

Admiral Glassford, in Atlanta a few days ago, spoke highly of the Japanese navy. He emphasized that the Jap naval forces are wellfitted and well-organized.

It is to be woefully regretted that this wellmeasured American naval opinion was not a commonplace about a year ago or longer.

The then popular opinion of the Jap navy was characterized in such stories as were circulated even in the Navy about the battleship whose plans had been stolen from the trickwise Scots and which turned turtle at a grand review before the Emperor. This event and others like it may have been true in themselves, but those stories betrayed us. They had a hand in making it necessary for us to "Remember Pearl Harbor!"

We have, or should have, learned long ago the fatal fault of underrating the enemy, having so often won startling victories by being

We underrated the Japs.

We failed to heed the lesson of 1905, of Port Arthur and Tushima, preferring to view the 100 per cent triumphs of the Japanese fleet and army over Russia's as an illustration of Czarist decadance, rather than credit the Japs with superior ability, marksmanship, discipline and seamanship.

Careful naval historians have noted these qualities, these abilities, but they have been relatively an obscure reference in naval lit-

He says the Japanese fleet is "well-fitted and well-organized."

From accounts of men on the scene we cannot surpass the fanatical courage of the Japs. Therefore it will not be enough for us, too, to be "well-fitted and well-organized." Where the Jap is well-fitted, we must be better fitted. Where the Jap is well-organized, we must be better organized. That's our big job.

Farm Labor

A farmer was talking. "You take one boy off to the Army or one tenant to a war plant, and you've cut off a finger on the hand that runs the farm."

The farmer really is facing a problem which, if not remedied, will make farming on the scale demanded by the war, almost impossible by

His sons are being drafted and many of those not eligible for the draft, are volunteering. The farm boy always has been one of the first to go serve his country.

His tenants and croppers, usually living from hand to mouth because the farmer has been living about the same way, hears of $1 and $2 and hour at some defense plant. He puts down his plow lines, takes his family off to some room on the edge of the town where the plant is located, and starts trying to get a job.

The farmer has increased his crops. His labor is disappearing. He sees his markets being slowed down by lack of transportation. If he is a peanut farmer, he feels the government has been unfair to him in putting a low ceiling on the nuts and making it impossible for him to make any money. He doesn't see how he is going to get out the nuts to sell for the floor price because it takes a lot of labor for peanuts and there isn't enough labor.

Paul McNutt has a job to do. And manpower for the farm is the problem which causes his head to ache most. It is a headache which may be felt across the continent, and around the world, if it isn't solved.

The Dutch Fight On

Holland has long been overrun by the Nazis. The Japs control the Dutch East Indies. But today many a merchant ship that glides silently over the far stretches of the oceans, many a plane that deposits bombs on Continental Europe, is manned by the intrepid Dutch. They fight on desperately, courageously-determined to rid their people of the dictators' yoke.

Families of many of these brave allies are now refugees sorely needing food and clothing and shelter. Wives and children do not know the whereabouts of their fighter husbands and fathers; the men carry on determinedly not knowing whether their loved ones have escaped, with their lives. A nation which can laugh at its trials and tribulations usually manages to overcome them. While some Americans were cheating on their gas and sugar ration cards, and while others complained and criticized, most Americans took it in stride and with a laugh.

Best example was discovered by Time Magazine. In Sioux City, Iowa, a citizen sent his ration board this verse:

"And when I die, please bury me 'Neath a ton of sugar, by a rubber tree. Lay me to rest in my auto machine.

And water my grave with gasoline." That is the spirit. Many businesses have been hard hit. Others may be hit. But the average citizen hasn't had to give up much. if anything. If called upon he can, and will, give up more—as much as is required to win the war. And he will do it with a grin for each grimmace.

Already, the men of the expedition have made comprehensive reports to the War Department on cold weather clothing, in addition to a report to the Navy Department on long-range radio operation and on airplane operation in sub-zero temperatures. BY GLADSTONE WILLIAMS.

EDITORIAL POLICY WASHINGTON, June 23.—Ever since the 1936 elections, which saw President Roosevelt re-elected by the greatest majority in history in the face of opposition from a large percentage of the nation's newspapers, it has been charged the press of the country has lost something of its former political influence. This was repeated in 1940. In that year Mr. Roosevelt was again overwhelmingly re-elected, despite the opposition of many of the largest representatives of the national press. This was particularly noteworthy then because the President's victory was achieved in violation of the long-standing twoterm tradition. One suggested explanation is the larger chain newspapers. Too many people have sought to make a big business enterprise out of the operation of newspapers. Most part the editorial policy of the chains is of the tin-can variety. It is dictated by an editorial office in some headquarters city. Take the Hearst and the Scripps-Howard papers, for example. Still another probable reason is the tendency in recent years of a number of wealthy people, with no previous press background, to buy old, established newspaper properties simply for the power and prestige it gives them individually. Many such people have sought to set themselves up as the moulders of public opinion, with no superior qualifications than the accumulation of wealth through INQUIRER CASE The purchase of the old Philadelphia Inquirer, formerly a highly influential organ, by Moe Annenberg, who served a sentence in jail for failing to pay federal income taxes on the millions of dollars he made in the racetrack racket, is an outstanding example of the latter class of offenders. How could anybody in Philadelphia give intellectual weight editorial appearing in a newspaper whose policies were dictated by a glorified race-track tout? The Paul Block chain of papers in Pennsylvania and Ohio is another example of the former classification. papers acquired by a man who gained his wealth in the advertising field. So far as the record shows he had no more qualifications for the role of public oracle than a bartender. And yet his publications presumed to carry on a vigorous editorial campaign against most of the popular reforms of the day.

One of the most interesting discussions of the subject has just been distributed by Editor and Publisher, the trade journal for the newspaper profession. It takes the form of a booklet which reproduces a speech before a meeting of the Inland Daily Press Association at Chicago recently by James E. Stiles, publisher of the Nassau Daily Review-Star, Long Island, New York, and president of the New York State Publishers' Association.

Mr. Stiles makes one of the most enlightening and straightforward commentaries to the debate that has been contributed to the current discussions. As a lifelong Republican who has op-posed many or most of the New Deal reforms, he has asked his fellow publishers to take new stock of the situation.

"One of the most obvious reasons why a part of the press has lost its former influence is that too many newspapers have become too wealthy, smug and complacent," he says. "Wealth and complacency almost invariably produce conservatism, inertia and even timidity and carelessness. A lot of newspapers have become 'Big LOW ESTATE He goes on to say that this explains why "much of the press has been reactionary" "It has been ultra-conservative. It has been out of step with the times, has refused to admit what it should have known to be true; in fact, it has obstructed inevitable forces instead of trying to make its own necessary adjustments and help steer these changes into constructive channels. After recounting that the President in 1940 received more than 20,000,000 votes for a third term, whereas the newspapers of the country sell more than 40,000,000 copies of daily papers every day in the week, Mr. Stiles asserts that if the press, as a source of information and guidance, held the respect and confidence of its read-"it would be a more powerful force than the President, the congress, or that entire aggregation we term the New Deal."

"When some of us have fallen to such a low estate," he writes, "it is time to inquire how this has come about . . . the press has missed a wonderful opportunity in not embracing and clarifying the President's program, exerting its prestige as a positive influence. . . . I regret that the press has not understood and become the messenger and interpreter of the program to a greater extent, I regret that it has tried to block a movement that is as irresistible

FAIR ENOUGH

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Strictly NEW YORK, June '3.— By Ear the eventual vanishment of golf as fuel and rubber shortage cuts the cruising radius of the addicts, reference was made to the creeping conquest of the lovely greens by a variety of weeds and herbs, including, as I spelled it, one called "pussel." Miss Corinne Johnson, associate editor of Readers' Digest, sensed a challenge in this word and has written to demand my authority or an apology. She says that any vegetation "which isn't flower, vegetable, grain or grass," or, as take the liberty to add, tree, is just a weed to her and further that she has consulted dictionaries and found "purslane," "pussley" and but no pussel. I hesitate o stimulate this discussion be cause I once inadvertently asked a question about the sex life of the wistaria of which I possessed a barren female and the corre spondence thus provoked was the greatest that I ever received on my one subject but, in a quiet, unprovocative way I should like say that I spell "pussel" strictly by ear. That is the way I have always heard it pronounced, except when it was called pigweed, and although I do believe "purslane' is correct, it has a stilted sound to Pussel or, il you insist on refine ment at the expense of inoffensive ease, "purslane" is a creeping weed that grows just about every where in the United States, except on rocks and in the deserts, and i edible, although not good to eat unless your taste runs to spin ach, dandelion greens and broccoli in which case you might like it.

Turnip In our part of the country Italian mothers and Tops their children who go along paper bags and pating knives gathering dandelion greens also gather this weed for their tables, and we have had it in our house a few times. It is eaten in the south also where, as Huey Long used to tell us, turnip tops and mustard grass are capable of lovely delicacy if cooked adroitly in a certain kind of pot along with a nugget of hog-hands on a history of the state and in a fascinating chapter on old which lies to the south and west of Key West in a god-forsaken stretch of beautiful but deadly blue waso shallow in spots that it barely covers the oatmeal bottom, I found a tribute to both pussel and Dr. Mudd, one of the most interesting minor characters of our history, who was sent to prison in the fort after the Civil War s an accessory after the fact to assassination of President Lincoln.

It is very doubtful that Dr. Mudd deserved any Saved punishment for his of-Lives fense, consisting of giving medical aid according to his sacred obligation, but, anyway, he was there a long time in a horrible place of confinement surrounded by a moat and was doctor and nurse to many of his fellow prisoners who fell sick of many ail been much better off than the prisoners, so the yielded to Dr. Mudd's plea that he be allowed to go ashore in a manner of speaking, along the terrible keys and prospect for y edible greens that he might find to combat the The greens he found were pussel of purslane or pigweed and by this addition to the diet of the wretched survivors of the fort he managed to save some lives and stop the spread of the disease.

This part of the narration recalled the famine in Miss Pearl Buck's "The Good Earth," in which even a blade of grass or a few kernels of corn were a 'east way, never could happen here be-cause pussel and dandelions and doubtless many other greens and nuts are with us always in abundance and then, too, the appetizing rattlesnake grows numerou and big, especially in Florida, and the alligator, too, and, if comes, garfish by the which is despised as food but not condemned in the quaint Florida phrase: "If you kin eat 'em, you kin eat 'em.

My recommendation of pussel or purslane is similarly qualified.

ONE WORD MORE

By RALPH McGILL.

SONG OF INDIA One of the great cults which had grown up in this country was "The Indian Cult." demanded immediate independence for India and damned England for not granting it. Admittedly, England's record in India is not as good as it might be. But to argue that India is ready for full and complete independence is to argue dishonestly.

Japan and Germany have great hopes in India. India. They believe they will receive great help there from Fifth Columnists. The amaz-The amazing fact is they will receive such help. The German treatment of minorities, and its particular record in Africa where the Negroes were debased and enslaved under German rule, never seems to be taken into consideration

Germany, with its campaign for the "domlnant German race," with all other peoples subject and contributing their labor for the enrichment of the "super race," has to leave to Japan the propaganda that this war will bring benefits to the Asiatics and the brown people generally. Nothing could be more obviously false. The Japanese record in Korea and Formosa and China is clear enough.

The Indians would be much worse off; would possess less liberty and fewer rights, if any, under Japanese or German rule. They must know that. Yet such is the stupid opposition of their leaders there are many who would welcome either Japan or Germany. There is a well-defined propaganda in this country to make the Negro believe that he should assist the enemies of this country. Some few have sold out in the face of the facts which are that domination by either Germany or Japan would be a calamity without parallel.

250 LANGUAGES Consider the problem of governing India.
Or rather, consider the problem of India governing herself. There are 250 languages in that country. This is literally correct but does not present the real situation. Most of these languages are spoken in the secluded valleys and foothills of the Himalavas Only 17 or 18 languages are spoken by enough people to make them of any practical value

In this one country there are more different languages than in all Europe. There are 80,000,000 people in south India who cannot understand others from any other part of the country.

There are in India, which is as large as Europe, omitting Russia, 11 British provinces and 600 native states. Only about 20 of these 600 native states are of any political importance. Again, there is in India, a set of political and jurisdictional lines which are as sharp and as important as those between the different countries in Europe. There is more religious tension in India than in any other country in the world. Hinduism itself is divided into many sects. There also are the Siks, Christians and Jains. They get along fairly well. But the great Moslem minority, 84,000,000, does oppose the 260,000,000 Hindus with a bitterness and an implacable hatred which is impossible to solve.

The Indian congress, about which so much is heard, is the most influential political organization in India. It claims to speak for India. It doesn't. In 1940-41 the congress had one and one-half million members, a decline of 4,000,000 since 1939. The total electorate was but 30,000,000 out of 300,000000. Of the 1.585 seats in the provincial legislatures the congress has never won more than 705 seats. Fifteen parties divided the others. The problem of making a federation out of such a situation as 11 provinces, 600 states and a religious division of this sort ought to be argument enough that India isn't ready for independence, but is a setup for some Fascist government which ruthlessly will suppress all peoples and all government by mass machinegun exeas military, asset to Japan. India has almost as much iron resouces as the United States: one-third of the world's output of vital manganese; a large supply of coal, and a rapidly developing steel industry.

Not many persons think of India as industrialized in any field except textiles, but she is. India, before the war, was turning out one-sixth as much steel as Japan and that capacity has been expanded. As for the textile industry, it may be well to note that India ranks second in the production of cotton; that India is first in production of hides and leather, first in the production of sugar, first in tobacco, first in oil seeds, has a monopoly in jute and lac (for making shellac); has one-third of the cattle in the world, three-fourths of the world's mica, and is second to the United States in potential hydroelectric power. Even so, only a beginning has been made in that vast country.

The Family Quickly Becomes "Respectable" If Dad Can Earn the Money

By ROBERT QUILLEN.

In a rich and favored nation, which is still burdened and handicapped by ignorance, crime, poverty and disease, men of good will and blameless intentions keep on failing to solve social and moral problems because they depend upon a false diagnosis. They treat surface symptoms instead of getting at the disease

They work on social and moral problems and ignore the fact that all of them are economic problems. The love of money is not only the root of all evil, but the basic cause of almost all shameful behavior and shameful conditions. Wherever you find evidence of rottenness, look behind it and you

Their homes are squalid. They have neither ideals or ambition or hope. They don't get enough to eat. They are whipped by poverty.

They work in some kind of factory where they earn less than $7 a week. But don't similar factories elsewhere pay more? Yes, but here the factory is handicapped by some discrimination—some

2 Georgians Dead, 20 Missing on New Casualty List

The Navy Department, in its fifth casualty list yesterday, covering the period from May 11 to June 6, named two Georgians killed in action and 20 missing in action, of which three were Atlantans. In an addenda to its first list, the department placed the name of Thomas B. Scott Jr., Marine Corps private, son of Thomas B. Scott, 2006 Pennsylvania avenue, Augusta, among those killed.

MISSING - Albert Felix Herren Jr., of Atlanta, one of 20 Georgians reported missing in the Navy Department's fifth casualty list, covering the period from May 11 to June 6. Injured in February, he was at a hospital in Corregidor when that stronghold surrendered to the Japs.

James Marvin Kimbell, 24, machinist's mate, second class, son of Mrs. Mary L. Kimbell, McDon-ough, has been reported missing since the submarine tender on which he was stationed was sunk in the Manila bay area last March. Because of some confusion, it was uncertain whether Kimbell had been transferred from this ship or whether he was evacuated to Corregidor with survivors, and there fell into Japanese hands. Mrs. Kimbell has not heard from him since March 7.

Produce Dealers Indicted by Fulton Grand Jury.

Two Atlanta wholesale produce dealers were indicted yesterday by the Fulton county grand jury for the alleged purchase of stoler automobile tires. These were among the first such indictments returned in this county since tire stealing boomed as a result of tire rationing.

Those indicted were Oscar and George Toney, Piedmont avenue produce wholesalers. The technical charge was receiving stelen goods. A joint indictment against the two, who are father and son charges them with receiving stolen tires from Lewis Harvey, recently convicted of the theft of tires from George F. Donehoo, of 2165 Ste-wart avenue, S. W. A second in-dictment against Oscar Toney charges that he bought stolen tires from Harvey, Henry Lazenby and Luda McCollum, the property of Charles B. Harrell Jr., 1109 Vest Peachtree.

The indictments were the result of testimony of the Toneys at the trial of Harvey. Upon the inception of tire rationing, Solicitor General John A. Boykin promised to prosecute buyers of stolen tires with as much vigor as the thieves themselves.

Britain are eighth cousins once removed, but you have to go back to the Mayflower to prove it.

Announcement of the discovery of blood relationship between two of the world's leaders was named today at the office of the New York Genealogical and Biographical Society by Conklin Mann, editor of the "Bible" of genealogy, the New York Genealogical and Biographical Record.

The relationship comes through the line of Mr. Churchill's mother, Lady Randolph Churchill, who was Jennie Jerome, of Brooklyn, Mann said. Actually, however, you have to go back to 1620 when a 10-year-old boy, John Cooke, came to Plymouth on the Mayflower. "Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Churchill have three Mayflower ancestors in common," he explained. "Two of these are Francis Cooke and Richard Warren. The third is John Cooke, son of Francis Cooke, who came to Plymouth on the Mayflower in 1620 with his father. He was the boy of 10. "Mr. Roosevelt is descended from two of the daughters of John Cooke and Sarah Warren. One was Esther Cooke,

Consumer Services Are Placed Under Price Ceiling

WASHINGTON, June 23 .- (AP) - Consumer Services, a $5,000,000,000 industry carried on in 1,000,000 establishments istrator. throughout the country, were placed under a wartime price ceiling tonight with top prices pegged at the highest levels ceiling tonight with top prices pegged at the highest levels ceiling tonight with top prices pegged at the highest levels ceiling tonight with top prices pegged at the highest levels bearing, but would be assignable after the of March. The ceiling takes effect July 1.

The order covers laundries, undertakers, garages and all sorts of repair shops. As a general rule, it covers all retail services performed on things, such as shoe-shining and piano-tuning; and it exempts services performed on or for people, such as those of barbers, doctors and lawyers.

Household Repairs.

Household repairs done by the niture; floor waxing and sanding; job come under the order. As an example, the ceiling would cover a contract for reroofing a house if the contractor named a price for the whole job. If the house-holder bought the shingles and hired a man to lay them, however, the repair would not come under the ceiling.

For seasonal services, the order provides an adjustable price formula based on rises in the cost of living since last year. The renter of boats at a summer resort, for instance, may charge the highest price he charged in the corresponding season of 1941, plus the percentage of increase in the cost of living between then and March, 1942. The Office of Price Administration supplied a table giving these figures. Dry cleaners also might use the seasonal formula.

Program Complete. The order completes the overall ceiling program begun by Price Administrator Henderson April 28 with the issuance of the universal price order covering all commodities used, worn and eaten.

The regulation automatically licenses every firm in the consumer services field and makes violators subject to revocation of their license to do business.

Much of the 16-page order listed services exempted from price control. These include professional services, those of doctors, dentists, lawyers, architects, authors or entertainers and personal services such as those of barber and beauty shops and bath and masseur establishments.

Commercial Exemptions.

Services to commercial or industrial users, which are covered by the universal price ceiling, also are excluded. Also exempt are services of an employe to an employer and of common carriers and public utilities; the charges of newspapers, magazines, broadcasting stations, theaters, insurance underwriters and outdoor advertising operators.

A complete list of the services covered, Henderson aid, would

Hobby Provides the Theme At Party for Marion Fugitt

By SALLY FORTH.

. . MARION FUGITT'S penchant for keeping memory books (a hobby she has enjoyed since earliest school days) pro-vided the theme for a clever party given in her honor by Lucile Taylor on Monday evening at her home on Clifton road. The affair was one in the brilliant series being given for Marion prior to her marriage to Lieutenant Garland Ambrose Wood, U. S. #### Mrs.Cofer Presides At Annual Meet Of Lullwater Club

Mrs. Olin S. Cofer, newly elected president of the Lullwater Garden Club, presided at the annual luncheon held recently at the Mirador room of the Capital City Club. Co-hostesses for the affair were Mesdames Cofer, Albert Pritchard, L. P. Kilpatrick and Stillwell Robison.

Mesdames Robison and Kilpatrick, new members of the club, were in charge of the table deco-rations. Regal lilies, pink larkspur, jasmine and blue hydrangeas were arranged between spokes of a large wagon wheel placed on the center of the table, creating an unusual effect.

The club has two outstanding projects, one being the Lullwater Conservation garden on Lullwater road at Lullwater Parkway, and the other the Lawson General Hos pital. Three new bridges have been built in the gardens as wel as seats for the benefit of visitors. Many wild and native flowers have been planted in the garder which is also a bird sanctuary.

A number of interesting and constructive programs have been presented during the past year by Mrs. Sam Guy, chairman, and Mrs. Paul Duke, co-chairman of the committee: The club has co-operated with all branches of war activities and defense programs.

More than 100 vases, 75 books, nine new subscriptions to magazines, and two badminton sets have been presented to the hos-pital. Mrs. George Phillips secured a piano for the amusement hall at the hospital. On Mother's Day, hundreds of roses were taken to the hospital and also to U.S. Hos pital No. 48. The club sponsored a tea at Fernbank and also acted as hostess to the delegates to the Georgia State Garden Club con vention, for transportation, with Mrs. John Laughlin as chairman. # MY DAY: A Letter of Thanks From Scotland for the fall of Tobruk threatens to prolong the war. The United Nations face a challenge and now is the time to prove our unity. Every front belongs to every nation and we who are the youngest and strongest nation now facing the Axis powers, must show our determination to win. This can best be done by proving our unity of feeling and of purpose with every one of our Allies. Success may mean more sacrifice, even changes in our way of life, but if we can shorten the war by an hour, everything we will do will

This seems to me the opportune time to publish a letter which has just come, and which breathes the spirit which must be ours. It is signed by Margaret Rollo, and comes from Lanarkshire, Scotland:

"Dear Madame: "I have been given the very great honour of writing you on behalf of the Women's Rural Institute of this village to thank the women of America through you, for their most kind and throughtful gift of vegetable seeds. I can assure you that this gift, one of so many, has touched the hearts of all the women of Britain. These seeds have been put into the ground with many kind thoughts of American women and of good wishes for all Americans who are standing shoulder to shoulder with us in this gigantic struggle.

'Not many days ago, one of our loveliest old cities in the south was badly 'blitzed' two nights in succession. Many people lost everything. A member of my family wrote and told me that she had been working in a rest center for 16 hours one day, helping to feed and clothe the homeless. She said: 'The garments we gav out all came from America and you have no idea of the comfort and cheer they gave.'

"I have seen many of those garments, for the house of one of my friends in this village is the receiving center for the upper ward of Lanarkshire. What struck me about the garments was their cheery colors and their fook of warmth and comfort. Do tell the women of the United States how truly grateful we are for their help and wonderful generosity

It is so simple and costs so little, chances are you'll be tempted to say, "Oh, that, that couldn't do any good." But I've used it many summers and I know it keeps down all minor skin irritations of feet and body, and helps greatly in keep-ing comfortable in hot weather. It's a little can of powder, costs less than 25 cents a can and you merely dust the feet with it after each bath or at any time you choose. Sometimes there is an irritation between the toes, not caused by a germ or anything at all except perspiration. I have seen this powder cause such irritations to disappear and if used regularly I promise you'll have no summer foot trouble. As soon as you have dried your feet after bathing (dry them well), dust this powder freely between the toes and on any body area that is affected by excessive heat and per-spiration. You'll be deeply grateful for the comfort it gives.

I'll tell you the name of it and where it may be bought if you'll phone or write. Call Winifred Ware, Walnut 6565, or write, enclosing a self-addressed stamped envelop for reply, if you live out of town.

Bert Adams Boy Scout Camp Opens 15th Season Bert Adams Boy Scout camp opened its 15th season Monday with the largest first-week attendance in years-130 campers. George M. McCord, camp director, announced that after the eight-week regular season there will be a ninth week for Senior Scouts featuring the emergency service corps training, messenger training for civilian defense and the new air Scout training.

Harvey R. Brown is program director of the camp, and O. Jack Cordray is assistant director.

Hancock 4-H Clubbers

Attend Macon Rally SPARTA, Ga., June 23 .- County Agent David Dyer and a group of 4-H Club boys and girls have returned from Macon where they attended the state convention at Wesleyan College. This group represented all of the clubs in Hancock county aggregating several hundred youngsters. They were reorganized this year and practically all of the rural children are members of some club. Miss Doris Steed, home demonstration agent, has assisted in this work during the year and expected to accompany them to the convention, but was called out of town. They plan to continue work through the summer vaca-support in today's market al-though many leaders loafed at slightly lower levels.

The better action of the list as a whole was attributed partly to the opinion in Wall Street that recent war reverses, while serious, were far from determining the conclusion of the conflict.

Early bids were forthcoming on the idea the fall of Libya had been pretty well discounted by Monday's stumble. Revival of hopes for a more lenient tax bill also were helpful to sentiment. In the curb Brewster Aero and Great Atlantic & Pacific held moderate improvement. Minor losses were posted for Lake Shore, American Cyanamid and Niagara Hudson Power.

'Gives' Medal to Haskell; Tigers-Stanford Tie for Team Title.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., June 23 .-(P)—Earl Stewart, of Louisiana State, topped a field of 64 quali-fiers today in the National Inter-collegiate Golf tournament with a 36-hole total of 141.

But in a gesture of sportsman-ship the 20-year-old defending champ, who will enlist in the Army next week, relinquished Army next week, relinquished medalist honors to Dick Haskell, of Northwestern. Haskell, who at 26 is the oldest player competing at the Chain o Lakes course, finished with a 142, hooking a 73 onto his sub-par 69 yesterday.

"I qualified automatically, any Stewart modestly explain-"and was just competing for the team championship.

Stewart's 71-70-141 will stand, however, as a new qualifying rec-ord. His 142 last year established a medalist mark.

Bolstered by Stewart's roundone of the lowest cards of the day -Louisiana State tied Stanford for the team title. The Indians who won last year with a record 580, posted an aggregate score of 590 when Ray Brownell missed a six-foot putt on the 18th green which would have given them another championship. Princeton and L. S. U. finished in a dead heat in 1940. The team aggregate is computed from the four lowest scores of its members.

Behind Stewart and Haskell at 145 were Eddie Johnston, of Baltimore University, and Burleigh Jacobs, of Wisconsin, the 1938 Western Amateur medalist. Grouped at 146 were Keith

A Vital Slump What WAS the matter with the Crackers—and no way of explaining it? No more than explaining why it is Joe Di-Maggio, Luke Appling and other renowned batsmen are having their troubles this season.

Charlie Glock has driven in only 18 runs. Here is the answer as to why the Crackers have dropped so many games by one run. Suppose Charlie had accounted for twice 18? By this time last year he was pushing 50 and at season's end he had scored 120 of his Cracker mates.

All right. If Glock had now driven in 36 runs, some of them would have been in the right spots and the Crackers, who aren't in a bad position in the race, might be on top.

It's nothing physical with Glock, this inability to live up to his former appelation of "Clutch Hitter Charlie." Up to the day the season opened Glock was a sensational batter. He was his same old reliable self with runners on the bases. Once the season opened, he quit hitting. He had a stiff neck at one point but recovered, and still couldn't regain his form. He still hasn't been able to get back in the groove.

But who can tell when he might snap out of it? Glock's still a dangerous hitter. He is going through a period of mental stress trying to figure out what he is doing wrong, and it's affecting his fielding some as a natural consequence, but basically he is Clutch Hitter Charlie, and when his bat comes to life it will be a big lift for the Crackers. Especially with the other talents now on hand.

Balance Provided Next to Buddy Bates, Mar-shall Mauldin is the most reliable center fielder the Crackers have had in modern history. It's nice to have Marshall back in the fold. He's a pennant-winning type.

Frankly, I don't know of a better move that could have been made. A team that isn't strong down the middle always will be prey for better balanced outfits. Too many games will be lost on chances that should have been fielded.

The Crackers may prove stronger now than they were when they moved up through the field and held a lead of five and one-half games back in May. They have more experience. Take an outfield of Scott, Mauldin and Deal. There is defensive skill galore and reasonable punch.

There is nothing lacking in an infield of Glock, Blakeney, Letchas and Browne. The catching is excellent. And now that John Gee, who actually is six feet nine inches tall, and Vernon Curtis, who struck out 140 in some 89 innings for Hopkinsville, have been added to the pitching, the necessary balance has been provided.

No Cracker team with which Earl Mann has been associated ever went from bad to worse-in any year. It always has gone from bad to good. Because that's Mann's way. He never has been associated with a loser anywhere.

It will be a vastly different team when the present road trip ends, and the boys come home. They may run into trouble in Nashville, since the Vols have added a great deal of strength and will be tough in the bandbox park. But, on the other hand, they may hold their own.

Tough Going The best tip-off on how hard it is to get players is to study the experience of Doc Prothro at Memphis. Doc has had to call on men like Buster Chatham, who earlier managed the Pensacola Flyers, of the Southeastern League.

Buster's playing the outfield for the Chicks. Normally, Buster couldn't make the grade in the Southern League. He was past his peak when he left

It isn't a case of spending money. The Crackers spent all they could to obtain help. But where they probably succeeded was in contacts enabling them to deal with Montreal for Gee, etc.

Lt. Harman Jr. Harry E. Harman Jr. has been promoted to a lieutenant (junior grade) in the United States Navy.

Harry, who is stationed aboard a submarine chaser out of Miami, attempted to put in a call to his family when his boat put in for a short time Sunday but, unfortunately, they were out with friends. Georgia's football captain in '37 wanted to tell them about his promotion.

Harry's father, state administrator of the WPA, himself is an old Bulldog star.

Rambert and Lochbaum Hurl Well; Blakeney Homers in Each Tilt.

By ED HARRIS.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., June 23 .-Collecting their blows when the blue chips were down, the Atlanta Crackers today won their second successive double bill from the cellar-dwelling Knoxville Smokies to jump back into the first division over New Orleans.

It took the Crackers 11 innnigs to win the opener, 4 to 3, while a two-run outburst in the final inning won the nightcap, 5 to 3. The games were two well-hurled contests, with the Knoxville pitchers becoming jittery in the late stanzas. In the opener Atlanta got but three hits until the ninth, when they knotted the score.

Today's double bill ended the current series. The Crackers move on to Nashville to open a series tomorrow night.

FIRST GAME.

It was the third inning before the Crackers were able to break them in the first and second. Buster Blakeney homered over the right field fence to send the Crax out front 1 to 0.

Buster Blakeney turned in an unassisted double play to halt a Smokie threat in the third. Tyler and Shelley had singled with one away.

Warchol doubled to start the Smokies in the fifth, but Tyler, Boss and Shelley couldn't bring

It was the eighth before the Smokies tallied. Tyler started it with a walk and he was safe at second and Boss at first on a sacrifice. Both advanced on a wild Tyler scored and Boss went to third on Shelley's single. Shelley went to second when the throw got away from Blakeney. Howell was deliberately walked to fill the bases. Finley walked, forcing in Boss with the run that put the Smokies ahead, 2 to 1. Cortes was replaced on the mound by Pep Rambert. Bud Lewis hit for Campanis and walked, forcing in Howell with the third run. Piet struck out and Garbould was called out on strikes.

Warchol also struck out. With the exception of the walk to Lewis, forcing in a run, it was a masterful bit of pitching by third it was the ninth before the Crackers got another hit.

Blakeney started the 10th with a double to left-center, but was out, Evans to Piet, on Rambert's attempted sacrifice.

Minimum (Ped) Howell doubled.

Murray (Red) Howell doubled Warchol, for the Smokies in their half of the tenth. Finley's drive down the right-field line was barely foul. Finley hit to Rambert and was out at first and Howell was caught O'Brien started the 11th with a single to left field. Deal's grounder went through Waldrop for a single, sending O'Brien to third. Scott walked to load the bases. Richards popped up to Waldrop. O'Brien scored as Browne forced Scott at second. Blakeney popped to Piet and the Crackers were leading, 4-3.

Blakeney and Glock turned in sensational plays to help rub out the Smokies in the 11th. Evans fanned for the final out.

BURPO WALKS 12, WINS.
BIRMINGHAM, Ala., June 23.—George
"Wildman" Burpo walked 12 men and stayed in hot water most of the game but he bore down in the pinches and the Birmingham Barons took their third in a row from Memphis, 9 to 3, tonight.

The victory was the youthful speedballer's sixth against five losses.

The Barons pounded George starting Chick hurler, liberally in the first two frames and finally sent him to the showers in the third.

Rapid, flexible, dependable and endowed with hair-trigger alertness, the truck lines in Georgia and elsewhere throughout this land of ours are outstandingly well equipped to function efficiently—to handle big assignments WHEN THE

The pilot in the cockpit has a job to do-a daring job, a courageous and vital job in America's all out effort against the Axis. The man in the truck cab, too, squares his shoulders and assumes a new and exciting vital burdennot only in supporting by his service the essential welfare of the home front,

A BIG GEORGIA ASSET Geared by peacetime experience to take pressure jobs in their stride, truck lines operating in Georgia have fitted themselves into the double-quick, heavy-duty requirements of war with neatness and dispatch. They are rendering 24-hour a day allegiance to the country's military needs-and still rolling Georgia's products throughout the nation and transporting to us our needs from other states.

Good citizens, heavy and willing taxpayers, hard workers, the truck lines of Georgia-and the men who man the cabs-are grateful for this added opportunity to extend their usefulness-glad that they can be of vital service to their country -and to their countrymen!

Forty to sixty per cent of the loads carried today by America's freight trucks -throughout our entire nation-are loads specifically for use in helping America win the war.
